Volunteer Fireman Is Hurt in Fighting E. Kingston Blaze

Dale Auchmoody Suffers Arm Injury When Rocks Fall During Cave Fire

Dale Auchmoody, a member of Ulster Hose Company, suffered an injury to his left arm Tuesday afternoon while fighting a fire in a mushroom cave at East Kingston when rocks from the roof of the cave fell. He was treated by Dr. George Elntz and this morning X-rays were taken at the Kingston Hospital to determine the extent of the injury.

A Chevrolet truck caught fire from a short circuit 500 or 600 feet back in the cave, which is operated by Andrew DePola of Glensco, about 3:55 o'clock and the cave rapidly filled with heavy smoke. Two men were at work in the cave at the time, the rest of the men having quit for the day.

While the cave filled with smoke and sent out clouds of smoke over the village, Father William L. Brennan of St. Colman's Church located across from the scene of the fire sent in a call to the Ulster Hose Company and the firemen's quick response undoubtedly saved the gas tank from

Ulster Fair Draws Crowds; Exhibits Have Wide Range

Early Downpour Fails to Halt Public Arrival for Annual Farmer's Field Day at Forsyth Park; Gala Event Scores for 1947

A heavy downpour failed to dampen the spirit of hundreds of exhibitors and spectators as they jammed into Forsyth Park early this morning, hours before the official opening of the Ulster County Fair and Farmers' Field Day which started promptly at 10 a. m. The large booths and display sections were a beehive of activity as the exhibitors rushed to complete their displays in the face of a threatening rainstorm.

Albert Kurdy, secretary of the annual event, was pessimistic as he viewed the darkened skies and told a Freeman reporter that the

Stuyvesant Motors Has 40th Birthday

Clinton Avenue Company Began on Wall Street in Ex-Livery Stable

Stuyvesant Motors, located at 250 Clinton avenue, is today celebrating its 40th anniversary in business. Back in the early days when motor cars were a novelty and the cry "get a horse" was frequently heard when a chugging motor car passed, A. H. Chambers started in the automobile business in the former Gilead Smith Livery Stables, at 223 Wall street. That was on August 20, 1907.

The first year Mr. Chambers used only the former carriage portion of the building but in the spring of 1908 the horse stalls at the rear of the building were removed to allow for additional storage space.

From 1907 to 1911 the business was conducted under the name of The Wall Street Garage, the name being changed to Stuyvesant the latter part of 1911 due to the building of the new Stuyvesant Hotel which was managed by the late James S. Winn. At this time Leon E. Chambers became a junior partner in the business.

Last minute preparations were rushed and most of the display sections were ready for the visitors at opening time.

The entire park area was dotted with tents and temporary stalls featuring numerous activities.

Legion Bus Trip Plans Completed By Esopus Post

Tickets Will Be Sold Till Aug. 28 for Ride to Convention on Parade Day

Plans have been completed, it was announced today, by Town of Esopus Post, 1298, for excursion by bus to the Legion national convention in New York city the day of the big parade, Saturday, August 30.

Tickets for the busride, starting from Port Ewen at 7 a. m., must be purchased before Thursday, August 28, by those intending to take advantage of the excursion, stopping point of which will be the Dixie Terminal.

The return trip to Port Ewen is expected to start from New York in time to have riders back home late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

It was stressed that although all Legionnaires, their wives and families, will be welcome to ride on the buses, others, too, desiring to see what is expected to be the Legion's biggest parade in history may purchase tickets for the ride.

Although Town of Esopus Post put through the excursion plan to make it convenient for Legionnaires and their friends to attend the convention, consideration also was given to the personal interest post members would have in cheering for the Port Ewen Drum Corps which will march in the parade up Fifth avenue, leading to Esopus Post.

Most of the corps members belong to the Legion, therefore it will parade as a Legion unit, dis-

41 Persons Are Victims Of Pollution

Health Department Says Bungalow Colony Hit by Gastroenteritis in Wawarsing

Water 'Friendly'

Dug Well Pump Gave Up Seemingly Better Supply

Forty-one persons out of 59 in a town of Wawarsing bungalow colony were affected by gastroenteritis as a result of using water from an unapproved source, the recent report of the Ulster County Department of Health discloses. None of the persons was seriously affected but suffered abdominal cramps, nausea and diarrhea over a period of two weeks. The disorder affected every one of the families, both children and adults.

An investigation of the milk supply found it was from an approved, pasteurized source. Health Department investigation disclosed that the source of water supply for the bungalow colony was from a dug well and a newly drilled well which was unapproved. The investigation disclosed that the new drilled well appears on the plan to be near the site or at the site of an abandoned cesspool. Water from the dug well was available from a hand pump and the water from the drilled well was available at the taps. Last year the water supply was from an approved, chlorinated spring, the dug well having at that time been found to be "grossly polluted" and was condemned and the hand pump was then dismantled by the investigator.

This year the spring was not used, the report states, and the new drilled well was placed in service and the hand pump was replaced on the old dug well. People at the camp complained that at first the water from the taps was "good" but that it became "distasteful and smelled like 'rotten eggs' and they discontinued using it and began to use the water from the hand pump. That water appeared to be "good," "cool," and "refreshing" and was then used exclusively for drinking.

'Grossly' Polluted
Laboratory reports showed both wells to be "grossly" polluted and all water ordered boiled and only

Sheriff Smith Has Housing Problem

Sheriff Smith is beginning to have his own housing problems. For some time the population at the county jail has been on the increase after several years of depleted residence at public expense during the war years.

For several months now the jail population has been on the increase and there are now housed in the jail 47 persons, seven of whom are women.

At one time during the war period the population in the jail was below 20 and there was a scarcity of "trusties." For the past several months however the population has been on the increase and has ranged from 40 to 48 persons.

Wilburites Cheer Demand Service By Bus Continue

Alderman Roth Scores Adirondack Lines for Using Certain City Streets Without Council Permission; to Submit Findings

Wilbur turned out in force at a public hearing Tuesday night in the Common Council chamber to applaud and cheer demands for continuation of bus service in the area.

Nearly 100 residents of the district attended the session held by the Railroad and Bus Committee of the council, but the Kingston City Transportation Corporation which has been operating trial runs in the sector was not represented.

An earlier hearing on application of the Adirondack Transit Lines Inc., to use certain city streets for a route to Rosendale and Williams Lake was unopposed but it drew a complaint from Twelfth Ward Alderman Victor H. Roth that the company had started operating over city streets without making formal application to the Common Council.

Alderman Roth, who is not a member of the Railroad and Bus committee, reported that buses of the line had been operating over city streets since July 24. This was a practice, he said, that the Common Council could not overlook.

William F. Hanrahan, who represented the bus company said that the bus line began operating before waiting out the public hearing and making formal application to the council because it felt it would be required to wait too long for further hearing by the Public Service Commission.

The representative of the bus company explained that the original application had been made on the basis of a 90-day trial period, and it asked that the use of the city streets be put into effect as quickly as possible.

Alderman Roth suggested that in the future all similar requests be submitted formally to the council.

Alderman John Buboltz of the fourth ward, chairman of the committee, announced at the end of both hearings that the findings of the committee would be submitted to the council.

New Paltz Contract Is Given Locally

Slover, Jansen, Schline Will Renovate State Teachers Building

A general contract was awarded the Slover, Jansen and Schline Builders and Contractors of Kingston by the New York State Temporary Housing Administration to completely renovate a three-story building in New Paltz in connection with the state enlargement of the New Paltz State Teachers College, Percy Slover, of the contracting firm, told The Freeman.

Subcontracts have been awarded three Kingston residents. Seven bids were opened Monday. It was said today the cost of the work is placed tentatively at $25,000.

The building and adjoining property formerly owned by Josiah LeFevre and after his death by his widow, Susanne V. LeFevre, was acquired by the state from Mrs. LeFevre's surviving daughter, Mrs. Roy Denniston and Mrs. Raymond Jenkins, for the purpose of enlarging the college campus.

The building, which is now situated south of the present baseball field on the campus off Mohonk avenue, fronting on Plattkill avenue, and which will be located in the central part of the enlarged college campus, will be completely renovated with the second and third stories to be used as dormitories to house approximately 30 students. The first floor will serve as a study hall.

Mr. Slover said that the job will last approximately three months, with about 20 to 25 men employed.

Action Is In Accord With Study

Unanimous Vote Is Taken; Public Had Voice July 9 at Hearing

Board Felt It Should Not Act Since Schools Are Not Province

The Ulster county Board of Supervisors at a special meeting last evening voted unanimously to take no action at this time relative to the assessing and collection of any special taxes, or so called "nuisance taxes" in Ulster county for educational purposes. This action is similar to that taken by many other counties in the state and only one county this far, Erie county, has voted to impose the taxes authorized by the last legislature to meet the increased cost of education due to state mandated increases in minimum salaries for teachers.

Action of the board in declining to impose the special taxes was in accord with the recommendations of the special committee appointed to investigate the matter and submit a report and recommendations at the holding of a public hearing. Such public hearing was held July 9 with approximately 100 people present and 21 persons expressed their views. Acting on the views expressed at that time the committee submitted the following report and recommendations at the meeting Tuesday evening:

"Hon. Edward Murray, Chairman, Ulster County Board of Supervisors: The Special Committee of the Board of Supervisors of Ulster county, appointed by you on June 26th, 1947 in relation to the imposition and collection of certain specified taxes in Ulster county to be used for educational purposes, wishes at this time to report to you and the Honorable Board of Supervisors, their findings and recommendations.

This committee fully realizing that in all public matters concerning Ulster county, final decisions should rest with all the citizens of Ulster county, arranged for a public hearing to be held at the Ulster County Court House on July 9th, 1947 at 8 p. m.

Through the medium of Ulster county newspapers, radio and by mail, all interested groups and individuals were requested to attend and express their views either for or against the assessing of the taxes being considered. Over one hundred Ulster county citizens attended this meeting and 21 expressed their views for the benefit of your committee. These gentlemen from all sections of Ulster county and representing thousands of Ulster county citizens were practically 100 per cent against the so called "Nuisance Taxes."

It is true that a few said they were mandated to present a request for these taxes for school purposes, but they were very specific in pointing out how unjust and unfair and expensive these

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP)—While this city sweltered in 87-degree heat, an ice cream truck driver was rescued after being trapped and overcome in the sub-freezing temperature of his vehicle's freezer unit. An unidentified passerby informed Patrolman Robert Windish that someone was pounding on the truck side. As Windish opened the door of the ice cream compartment, the unconscious form of John Sebastian, 25, tumbled out. After being revived at Hahnemann Hospital, Sebastian said the door had swung shut behind him and that he had kicked against the truck body until overcome by the cold.

Millions More to Starve
"Under the most favorable conditions, even if more food could be made available immediately, several million Germans will undoubtedly die of starvation and privation during the next twelve months."

It is not new to us that the Russian, British and America wartime policy of completely wiping out German industry, followed by the Morgenthau plan to turn the people of that country into peasants, had thrown all Europe into a state of famine.

But the above report by a realistic American business man back from Europe after a two-months investigation, slaps us in the face with the realization that our shortsighted policy is still killing millions of men, women and chilren—two years after the end of the fighting.

Many Americans tried to warn against the above-cited excesses in our policy. Many Americans today feel that the spirit of revenge prompted the excesses and still retards us in developing a suitable peacetime German policy.

The problem of feeding these peoples till they can get back on their feet is clearly that of the former allies. The urgency of the situation is such that Marshall cannot afford to let French jealousy of the industries of the Ruhr basin drive him from his plan to restore the peacetime industries of the next Reich.

The sanest plan I have seen for getting that job done—for taking Germany and Europe off our shoulders—was written not by a brain trust or a State Department specialist, but by the aforementioned business man, Harnischfeger, president of the Harnischfeger Corporation of Milwaukee, Wis.

Harnischfeger describes the American appointed German bureaucracy as almost wholly incompetent and often motivated by political prejudice. Practically all capable bankers, business executives and governmental administrators "are awaiting denazification proceedings behind barred wire or are confined to alienness in their homes; or, because of findings of the denazification courts, are prevented from exercising for a period of years their leadership talents."

Give Germany Back to Germans
In one area the American observer was told of three million former Nazi Party members, of whom 2,200,000 finally had been exonerated. But of the remaining 800,000 only about 30,000 "are sufficiently burdened politically to require careful attention. Yet our revenge-bent administrators insist on holding under charges the entire 800,000, which includes the brains and experience necessary to rebuild Germany."

Compare this with the ancient practices of killing or enslaving the vanquished. Compare it also with the policy of the Soviets who make use of any and all former Nazis who are qualified and willing to take hold.

Among Harnischfeger's recommendations are:
Punish political Nazis within six months "and let the others rehabilitate themselves and their country by getting back into their regular professions."

Unify all occupation zones. Pressure Russia—by economic sanctions if necessary—to "withdraw sufficiently from her present western border in Germany to restore to the German economy the all-essential food producing area in the east, without which America will have to keep on feeding the German people for many years."

Make clear to home owners, business men and would-be business men that private property will not be further confiscated or nationalized.

Prevent further dismantling of industry and pool all reparations payments, requiring the starting of such payments after five years.

Establish a German government of Germans. "It is impractical for our army alone to try to run one of the most intricate economic systems in the world."

"Stabilize currency and give it value, thus cutting out barter and black markets."

Reduce our police forces to a minimum.

A Germany thus reconstructed could and likely would quickly lead Europe back to economic health.

Brides Should Know Invitation Etiquette

The ethereal strains of Lohengrin mean the beginning of a new life for the twosome standing at the altar. But in a way, the ceremony signifies an end, too, the culmination of the weeks spent planning the invitations, announcements, reception and the endless details which often add confusion to the general feeling of excitement.

The invitations alone were a problem. Which looked best?

The choice, of course, is limited. Wedding invitations as well as announcements are engraved on the first page of folded sheets of quality paper—white, off-white, ivory or ecru. It may be plain or have a raised panel.

Two envelopes are used, one for mailing and one inside which is left unsealed and contains the invitation. A conservative style of engraving is preferred.

Detailed wordings for invitations and announcements are given in our Reader Service booklet No. 204. The booklet's 40 pages cover every phase of planning a wedding from the engagement to the disappearance of the newlyweds after the reception. It discusses fully the formal, semi-formal and informal wedding with complete details on dress and arrangements.

Hitler's Physician, Six Others Will Be Hanged

Nuernberg, Germany, Aug. 20 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's personal physician and six other Germans convicted of using Nazi concentration camp inmates as guinea pigs in inhuman—and worthless—medical experiments were sentenced today to die on the gallows.

Five other men convicted yesterday on the same charges were sentenced to spend the rest of their lives in prison while four persons, including the lone woman to face the accusations, received lighter prison terms, ranging from 10 to 20 years. The woman, Herta Oberhauser, got 20 years for her work at Ravensbruck, where thousands of women inmates perished.

Seven doctors who faced the court during the 132-day trial were acquitted.
Hitler's doctor, Karl Brandt, an SS general and chief of the Reich's medical branch, was found guilty of conducting high altitude and freezing experiments on prisoners, as well as carrying on malaria, mustard gas and sterilization tests which brought death to countless victims.

The convicted defendants were brought in one by one this morning to hear their fate pronounced by Judge Walter Beale of Olympia, Wash., head of the tribunal which heard the case.

If You're Missing One Cow, Ellsworth May Have It

Are you missing a cow today? In case you are, it is highly probable that your bovine is the one tied to a tree in John Ellsworth's garden on Catskill avenue. Mr. Ellsworth appreciates a good piece of beef as well as the next man, especially if it's free, but he is offering shelter to this lost or strayed cow until the rightful owner shows up to claim it.

It seems that a well-nourished cow strayed into Mr. Ellsworth's garden yesterday and suddenly tell in love with the setting. After preliminary attempts to chase the animal away had met with undistinguished success, Mr. Ellsworth tied the cow to a tree and then notified the police department. The desk sergeant was slightly perplexed by Mr. Ellsworth's request to do something about a cow that was staying out too late.

—far too many people depend on sources of financial information which are no more reliable than the fortune-teller!

These are the people who accept worthless tips—from well-meaning friends—even from strangers who may not be so well-meaning.

They act upon "tip sheet" lures of self-styled "experts" who are willing to predict the future course of almost everything—including the prices of securities. Such tipsters may promise you quick, easy riches—something no responsible adviser would do under any circumstances.

On what, then, should the person who seeks a legitimate investment depend? On facts. On good judgment, based upon facts.

Given sufficient factual information, it is possible to appraise the financial condition of a company, its operating ability, its competitive position, its prospects... and to arrive at a reasoned investment decision.

The New York Stock Exchange has, for many years, led a successful movement to make more information available about its listed securities. The facts are to be found in the reports of listed companies, in data filed with the New York Stock Exchange and the U. S. SHOP FRIDAY NIGHT 'TIL 9 P. M.

Affording an abundance of clean, quick circulating heat, this handsome cabinet heater is very popular for use in homes where flue connection is not available. It is of the non-vented circulating type, and has two giant 15" wickless kerosene burners, easily controlled and economical. Will heat 3,500 cubic feet at 20° above zero. Brown porcelain enamel finish.

Non-vented, circulating type pipeless heater with all the construction and equipment features necessary for efficient economical operation. It is equipped with two 12" wickless kerosene burners, easily controlled. Has one 2-gallon oil tank. Will heat 3,000 cubic feet at 20° above zero. Attractively designed, it makes a pleasing appearance in any room. Brown crackle finish.

$29.95

Heat from this Florence radiant heater radiates into the room in all directions. The outer walls form a sealed casing which is connected directly with the flue, and absorbs heat from the powerful burners. Has one 2-gallon tank. Beautiful porcelain brown finish.

$64.50

This heater burns furnace oil or range oil very economically, and requires a flue connection. A film of oil on the bottom of the burner is easily ignited with a match and forms an oil vapor that mixes with heated air drawn through perforations in the wall of the burner. A "low-fire" pilot ring within the burner insures an extra-low flame in mild weather. Porcelain enamel finish.

$67.50

Here is a heater that maintains an even circulation of warmed and humidified air that flows to all parts of a suite of rooms. One of two powerful burners operate within an inner chamber, which is directly connected to a flue. Between this chamber and the outer casing is an air space. The circulated air does not pass through the burners, but is drawn in at the floor, heated and humidified between the walls, and passes into the room through openings in the upper portion of the outer casing. This heater has two 3-gallon oil tanks and will heat approximately 8,500 cubic feet at 20 degrees above zero.

$129.50

Here is a single burner pipeless model that offers economy with ease of operation. This powerful heater is ideal where a flue connection is not available. It is the non-vented circulating type and can be used in any room. Will heat 1,800 cubic feet at 20° above zero. Has one 15" burner and one 1-gallon oil tank. Brown crackle finish. Handsome modern design.

DRESSES & MEN

Lady, why did you buy that last new dress? Was it because you really didn't like it, or because your spirits were low, or the girls at the club had seen most of your dresses too often? Wasn't there also a little desire to see that spark in friend husband's eyes, or in the eyes of the young man next door? You bet it was!

Men's ideas about dress—you know, they're always ready to tell you what they don't like, but seldom offer a helpful hint of their own.

But most men don't like the silly hats. A hat is all right. It can even express your light-hearted spirit. But to crown your beauty with a "creation" that looks like an up-turned umbrella filled with mashed-up fruit salad is an insult to the common sense.

As for dresses, most men don't like the longer skirts—except on a girl that has to wear them in self-defense. And they don't like dresses that are so sensational that you hardly notice the girl that's in it. Dress should clothe you, and bring out your good points, and should emphasize the grace with which you move and carry yourself. But it should never be the main thing, and make you only the dummy that carries it around. For one like a simple dress such as I've seen at WEISBERG'S, 271 Fair street. Here was quality expressed in perfect design, good material, and workmanship. Of course, simplicity can be brought to studied perfection. It was made to order, in a size that was just right for me. Then I've seen Peasant-Blouses from Arizona that had a simple charm all their own—ARLENE'S, 49 North Front street, have them on hand.

You see, if like simple things in dress, I like simple accessories. BLACK IS THE color for the coming months. And that brings in a note of jewelry. Oh, Ladies, what sins have I seen you commit! Large pieces of glittering gold worn on floral prints, when a plain pin of sea shell or coral would have been so much better. If needed at all! And we men too—what awful junk have we brought home sometimes, with the mistaken idea that the little woman would be glad to wear it! However, black dress and costume glitter like scotch needs soda, and there is a collection of unusual merit at WONDERLY'S, 314 Wall street. They have some delicate pins in excellent taste and very good workmanship. Scarf-pins, too, seem to come back to favor—so, men, here is your chance to bring something nice to the girl of your heart. But watch your step in selecting—so that she can thank you without her tongue in her cheek!

More than 75,000 pieces of literature were available to the visitors at the Greenwald booth, in addition to numerous souvenir items. Twenty-five mounted posters, covering countries in all parts of the world, enhanced the appearance of the entire booth.

The Greenwald exhibit will be shown at the Governor Clinton Hotel all day Thursday and Friday.

Movies portraying the charm

ken, oil burners, furnaces and boilers.

Roger Baer's House of Music Studios featured Hardman Console Baldwin Spinet and Janssen Mignon pianos, highlighting the new "Solovox" piano attachment which produced every tone of orchestral instruments. A special attraction feature of this exhibit was a series of musical renditions by Mr. Baer on a Hammond electric organ which continued throughout the day's events. Also on display was a Baldwin electronic organ.

Cattle and poultry

Cattle and poultry exhibits by county 4-Hers reached a new peak today, with an entry total exceeding those of past fairs. Fifty dairy cattle were shown, including Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys, Ayrshires, Brown Swiss and one grade animal. Three beef cattle, exhibited by Charles Relyea, 24 Mountain Road, Hurley, drew early visitors to the display stall. All three products in this baby beef exhibit were under one year old and totaled on an average close to 1,000 pounds each. The beef cattle will participate next in the Dutchess county fair and later in the Eastern States Exposition which will be held in Springfield, Mass., the week of September 14.

The poultry display was exceptionally heavy this year. Edmund Bower, county 4-H agent, said this morning. More than 170 birds were exhibited in a separate display section.

The Home Department exhibits occupied one of the largest booths at the park, and here numerous displays of clothing, canned goods, amateur photography products, floral displays, foods, and hand-made items of diverse forms were viewed by the crowds.

Greenwald's Travel Exhibit, directly across from the Home Department section, was one of the prettiest displays at the fair. Here scale models of national airlines planes and a number of large trans-Atlantic ships were shown. A dioramic five-foot sectional model of a DC-6 plane, mounted on a high pipe base, occupied a conspicuous place in the display. The DC-6, used by American and United Airlines, flies regularly from coast to coast making the trip in exactly eleven and one half hours.

Two smaller scale models of The Constellation, of the Eastern and TWA companies, were also displayed. The Constellation averages the same time from coast to coast as does the DC-6 and makes the trips from New York to Miami and New York to New Orleans in four hours.

Another outstanding exhibit of the Greenwald Travel Agency, which company has been in service locally for 41 years, was a scale model of the British liner, the Queen Elizabeth, made out of wood. The Queen Elizabeth is the world's largest and longest liner, being 1,031 feet long, only 217 feet less than the Empire State Building in New York city which reaches 1,449 feet into the sky.

Another scale model featured the trans-Atlantic French liner, the DeGrasse.

Services are displayed

A dioramic map of the world, provided by the TWA exhibit shown at the Greenwald booth displayed the various services accorded by Trans-World Airlines. The map was set off by models of the Eiffel Tower in Paris, the Coliseum in Rome, the Taj Mahal in India, the pyramids in Egypt, and the Windsor Castle in England.

Three-panel displays of Bermuda, done in natural colors, and Australia and other countries lent color to the interior of the booth, while the outside was circled by international code flags and flags of steamship companies and airlines.

exploding and prevented a very serious fire among the wooden partitions of the cave and the wooden mushroom boxes. Chief John W. Osterhoudt of the Ulster fire company, was led to the cave, entrance nearest the fire by Father Brennan and when the fire apparatus arrived he was able to direct the men quickly to the scene.

Used Gas Masks

The cave was filled with heavy smoke and gas masks were used. Chemicals were used to bring the fire under control. At first the smoke was so heavy it was impossible to see the truck. The damage was confined to the cab and rack of the truck.

Working in danger of injury from explosion of the truck gas tank, the members of the fire department brought the blaze under control to eliminate explosion.

The fire was out at 4:45 o'clock.

Other booths featured Grange and educational displays, numerous 4-H Club activity exhibits, vegetable displays, and many other departments in clothing, food, canning, hobbies, flowers and baked goods, all of which were attractively mounted in the various sections.

Three large refreshment booths were set up to handle the demands of hundreds of hungry and thirsty visitors.

DeWitt Says Elm Tree Is Relic of Settlers' Planting

Kingston's grand old elm trees promise to become as famous, at least locally, as did Longfellow's "spreading Chestnut tree" of blacksmith fame. In recent weeks there has developed a new interest in Kingston's shade trees and the elm trees in particular. This interest has been aroused through the removal of a couple of those famous old trees and City Historian William C. DeWitt has been moved to write The Freeman regarding the age of some of the elms which it is contended were set out by the early settlers when, what is now Kingston, was only a small village surrounded by "Indian country."

Removal of a large elm tree in front of the Dr. H. P. Van Wagenen property on John street, City Historian William C. DeWitt says, has brought up the question as to the age of that and other elm trees in the city.

"I answered that question at the Stuyvesant Hotel in an off-hand manner, that the tree was 300 years old," writes Mr. DeWitt.

Friend Takes Objection
"My figures were objected to by a friend sitting in the lobby of the hotel, who declared 175 years was the age of the tree, as the rings on a large log of the truck showed," continues Mr. DeWitt.

"At this time I am busy with my coming history of The Indian Stockade at Wiltwyck, 1659," which is now our City of Kingston. This will appear next year when it will become our duty to prepare for the 300th anniversary of the settlement of our ancient place. The planting of our beautiful elms hereabouts is one of the important points taken up."

"In 1878, when I was quite a small boy, my father, David Miller DeWitt, took me and my brothers down the Fair street extension, and there northwest of the U. & D. railroad tracks, pointed out to us 'The largest elm tree in Ulster county.' It remains to this day, only even larger. Ten years ago, writes City Historian DeWitt, 'I measured with a tape slightly above the ground and found the trunk to measure 27 feet, or 9 feet in diameter. The spread of the branches was 127 feet each way or a total of 254 feet of shade. The height was easily 250 feet.'

Father's Estimate
"This monarch stands there to this day even larger. My father, a careful historian, estimated the age of the elm in excess of 250 years in 1878. He told us the settlers, it had been told him, set out and planted elms on and in the vicinity of the lanes and streets of the old stockade and in the Ponckhockie and other sections of Kingston, then Esopus."

"So exciting have the arguments become that I took a friend down there beyond the Kingston Lumber Company yards between Clinton avenue and Fair street extension, and we viewed the grand sight again—the monarch and little brothers nearby—a very impressive sight. Any one can go down there and repeat the thrill my companion and I received," concludes Mr. DeWitt.

Mr. DeWitt told a Freeman reporter that he fully believed the historic old elm tree to be in excess of 300 years old and that in his opinion the tree removed from the Van Wagenen premises was less than 300 years old but far in excess of 175 years.

Ancient Elm, Thought Beyond 3 Centuries Old

Gives Stand on Fliers

Yokohama, Aug. 20 (AP)—Eitaro Uchiyama, one of three former Japanese generals charged with responsibility for the beheading of two U. S. fliers, testified today he believed the men had to be punished because they were guilty of "indiscriminate bombing." The executed men were Lt. Robert V. Nelson of Minneapolis, Kas., and Sgt. Alvy Stanley Agunas of Bay Shore, N. Y. Uchiyama told an Eighth Army Commission that the fliers had broken international military law and their guilt was not diminished even if they acted under higher orders. The prosecutions charged the men were executed after a perfunctory trial.

Drainage at LaGuardia

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—The eastern part of LaGuardia Field, described by J. C. Evans, chief engineer of the Port of New York Authority, as "an island floating on soup," was the scene today of a $250,000 drainage experiment. To cope with the gradual sinking of that part of the busy international airport, engineers yesterday began sinking a series of sand columns through which they hope water underlying the field will rise to the surface.

MORE PEOPLE ARE SMOKING CAMELS than ever before!

The "Choice of Experience"

The experience of smoking—and comparing—many different brands during the wartime shortage taught millions the differences in cigarette quality

YOU KNOW what it was like during that wartime shortage. You had to smoke one brand one day... another brand the next. And whether you intended to or not, you compared. That's how so many people became real judges of cigarette quality.

That's how smokers everywhere discovered the full meaning of the phrase, "Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T'..." that's why now, when smokers can get any cigarette they want... Camels or any other brand... the demand for Camels is the greatest in the 34-year history of this famous brand.

Try Camels today. Let your own taste and throat... your "T-Zone"... tell you why with millions of smokers Camels are the "choice of experience!"

Leonard Charged By Edith Moxham With Hitting Her

Crowell Case Adjourned; Judge Wants Mental Examination for Dawson

George Leonard of 108 North Front street had his case adjourned until August 27, when arraigned in city court this morning on a third degree assault charge preferred by Edith Moxham, of Route 2, Box 330.

Leonard, who is alleged to have beaten up the plaintiff on July 21 at 60 Cedar street, was represented by Attorney Chris Flanagan who moved a plea of innocent until proven guilty and requested an adjournment until August 27. The request was granted by Special City Judge Francis Martucci. Leonard furnished bail of $50 for his appearance on that date.

After the altercation on July 21, Leonard is alleged to have left town and was apprehended by the police when he returned yesterday.

LeRoy Crowell, 75, Montpelier avenue, who was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct on August 12, was granted another adjournment until September 3. He was represented by Attorney Roger Loughran.

Recommend Examination. Hornsby Dawson, a frequent visitor to the police station, who was arrested about midnight last night by Officer Francis J. Egan for disorderly conduct, has his case adjourned two days.

On his own motion, Judge Martucci entered a plea of innocent until proven guilty and recommended to the district attorney's office that the defendant be given a mental examination.

Dawson was arrested when Officer Egan found him on East Union street near Gamber street armed with an axe and hammer and unable to account for his actions.

Walter Russell, of Poughkeepsie, arrested by Officer Egan for panhandling on Wall street yesterday, was given one day to get out of town.

George Leonard Is Arrested 2nd Time; This Time for Bill

George Leonard, 33, who gave his address as 108 North Front street, was arrested for the second time this week as he walked out of city court this morning, the charge being non-payment of a board bill.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Wesley Cramer took Leonard into custody on a warrant sworn out by Harvey Chase, a resident of the Ashokan boulevard in the town of Hurley, and turned him over to Clayton Vredenburg of the Sheriff's Office.

He had just entered a plea of innocent through his attorney Chris Flanagan to an assault charge preferred by Edith Moxham who alleged he beat her on Cedar street.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Albert Davis of West Hurley, he asked for an adjournment, and $50 bail was set for his appearance on Wednesday, August 27, at 8 p. m.

Former A & P Lawyer Dies Cape Vincent, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—Caruthers Ewig, 79, retired general counsel for the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, died today at his summer home here on the St. Lawrence river. He suffered a heart attack three days ago.

Boy, 11, May Have Cut Three Windows

The police department yesterday announced the arrest of an 11-year-old boy who is believed responsible for the series of show window cuttings reported in the past several days.

Officers Edward Leonard and George Bowers made the arrest after a careful investigation by the police had centered suspicion on the youth. The youngster was brought before the children's court which will set a date for a hearing.

According to the police, the young boy came in possession of a glass cutter and had ripped large segments out of three show windows in the Wall street district and two in the downtown section.

Barretts, Landi Are Well Received At the Playhouse

Woodstock, Aug. 20 (AP)—Two potential favorites were seen at the Woodstock Playhouse last night. The Barretts of Wimpole Street and Elissa Landi as Elizabeth Barrett. Both the play and the actress were enthusiastically received by the audience.

Many who have seen this famous play before were impressed with the authenticity of the production and those who will see it for the first time will be charmed and repelled by the various phases of the play. Based as it is upon the true story of a courageous though invalid heroine and her poet lover, Robert Browning, it is more than a fanciful tale.

Elissa Landi as Elizabeth Barrett, whose delicate health was restored by her association with her lover, was sure and appealing in her role.

Cort Steen, who played Robert Browning was convincingly Victorian.

The part of Mr. Barrett, the tyrannical father, who felt that he must shield his entire family from the ravages of unsuccessful love and marriage, was played by Roland Hogue. Mr. Hogue succeeded in making himself thoroughly detested by those out front.

His portrayal of the character was excellent, and in his emotional scene with Elizabeth in the third act, he reached the highest point of his performance.

Marsh McLeod gave a spirited characterization as Henrietta, sister of Elizabeth Barrett.

Supporting roles were well played by Michael Linenthal as Doctor Ford-Waterloo, Michael Sly as Captain Surtees-Cook, Don McHenry as Doctor Chubb, and Frances Bayler as Wilton.

A welcome touch of humor was provided by the performance of Charmion King as Bella Hedley. Her portrayal of the coy and gay cousin was delightful and almost made one feel sorry for the strictly guarded members of the Barrett family.

The other members of the Barrett family were played by Lucia Collarte as Arabella; Lee Haring, Octavius; Henry Kaplan, Septimus; Jack Howlett, Alfred; M. J. Gladstone, Charles; Lewis Fredrick, Henry; and Murray Davis, George. Donald Davis played the part of Henry Egan.

Fluently Elizabeth Barrett's dog, was played faithfully by Brownie, a local canine actor.

The set which depicted Elizabeth Barrett's room in the house at 50 Wimpole Street, London, was a beautiful example of what a Victorian room should be.

Robert Elynn is to be complimented upon the fine manner in which this play was staged.—P. H.

The walnut crop in California in 1946 is estimated to have brought $34,000,000.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Utilities and assorted industrials edged forward in today's stock market while many leaders resumed their siesta at slightly lower levels.

A little professional short covering and bidding again was based on the thought that the recent substantial dwindling of liquidation had put a new shape for a revival if the news warranted. Some steels and rubbers hardened, despite the government's charges against these industries. Numerous customers did nothing or trimmed accounts pending more light on international and domestic economic trends.

It was another slow-motion session after a fairly active start. There were a few gainers of a point or so but fractional irregularity prevailed near the fourth hour.

Ahead most of the time were Eastman Kodak (responding to a pleasing earnings statement), Johns-Manville (on a hoisted dividend), General Foods, United Fruit, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Deere, Western Union, North American Electric Power & Light, Public Service of N. J., American Water Works, Philip Morris and American Smelting. A proposed stock split lifted American Sumatra Tobacco. Interim stumblers were Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, International Nickel, Dow Chemical, Standard Oil (N.J.), Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway and Great Northern Railway.

After treatment at the hospital, Mrs. Kelly was returned to her home.

Cushing's Attack Brings Reply From One of 7 Clergymen

Boston, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing's denunciation today of a report by seven Protestant clergymen that "religious freedom" existed in Yugoslavia brought a reply from one of the ministers that the archbishop's remarks were "typical of the reaction of the Catholic Press."

The Roman Catholic prelate had called upon "responsible Protestant leaders" to repudiate the report and charged the seven clergymen "became conspirators in a Communist campaign."

The Rev. Emory S. Bucke of Newton, editor of "Zion's Herald" and one of the seven who made the survey in Yugoslavia, said the archbishop was "raising a red herring" in claiming they did not visit members of the Catholic hierarchy.

The Methodist editor said his group sought an appointment through American Ambassador Shannon with Catholic Bishop Hurley, the Pope's emissary in Yugoslavia, but had received word the bishop would not be able to see them.

Rev. Bucke asserted in a statement: "We found absolutely no evidence of any restriction by Tito upon religious freedom" and added:

"Marshall Tito told us that they as a government recognized that if they curtailed religious freedom it would mean national chaos."

Commenting further on Archbishop Cushing's denunciation of his group, Mr. Bucke said "we expect that clergymen from those who favor unification of church and state."

Marshall Tells Assembly European Recovery Vital

Quilindaia, Brazil, Aug. 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall told the Inter-American Conference today that Europe's economic recovery is vital to the Americas and takes precedence because of its urgency over needs of the Western Hemisphere.

Further, in a plea for unity among the 20 nations drafting a hemisphere defense agreement, Marshall said New World unity is "vital to the future of the Old World."

"The results of our labors will demonstrate to all the world that people, and nations, who really want peace can have peace by living in an atmosphere of increasing cooperative action and good will," he said.

One for Americas Asked

Responding to proposals for a "Marshall Plan" for the Americas, the secretary said the United States has assumed "unusually heavy burdens" in determining effort to meet minimum requirements of war-devastated areas in Europe and Asia "now threatened with starvation and economic chaos."

Marshall continued: "In assuming this burden, we have not lost sight of the economic problems of the Western Hemisphere. As a matter of fact, the economic rehabilitation of Europe is vital to the economy of this hemisphere."

"My government will continue to take up economic questions with its sister republics and seek a sound basis for practical cooperation."

In an indirect reference to totalitarian systems of government, Marshall told the conference that the American nations "all agree that the state exists for man, not man for the state—and that we abhor any limitations upon the freedom of expression of men through the state."

"For only when we have access to the thoughts of men, to the forces of public opinion free of coercion or connivance, only then can we develop a wholesome common interest while at the same time respecting separate national traditions," he continued.

The secretary said: "We are devoted to the principle that states and nations should be bound by the same standards of moral conduct we set for the individual. Good faith and fair dealing, honesty and friendly cooperation, mutual respect and freedom of intercourse—these we expect of each other not individuals, these we should demand of each other as states."

"This is the basis of our fundamental belief in the equality of individuals, of the equality of states. We must reject encroachment upon the fundamental rights of the individual with the same determination that we reject any encroachment upon the fundamental rights of the state."

"We are determined to live in harmony, determined to abide by the same principles of moral conduct we demand of the individual citizen."

Elliott Roosevelt To Raise Cattle, Fowl at Hyde Park

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—The farm project which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and her son, Elliott, have started on their Hyde Park estate will be "no gentleman farmer proposition," says Elliott, "because we couldn't afford it."

Mrs. Roosevelt, in a deed recorded yesterday at the Dutchess county clerk's office at Poughkeepsie, conveyed to her son 842 acres she recently purchased for $85,000 from the executors of the late President's still unsettled estate.

The tract, more than half of the river front estate on the Hudson, includes farm buildings.

Elliott Roosevelt said last night that a "commercial general farming operation" already had been started, and that chicken, dairy, feeder cattle, pig and turkey projects are planned.

He declined to say what cash consideration was involved in the property transfer, saying that "it is purely a family matter." He said he would live on the estate, and both he and his mother would manage the farm operations.

They also plan to continue the sale of Christmas trees from the evergreen plantations the late President maintained, he said.

Part of the Hyde Park estate is owned by the U. S. government as an historic site. The farm deed consolidated several farm plots east of the Albany post road and Mariches creek in the town of Hyde Park.

Thinks Driver in Crash May Have Had Attack

Hamden, Conn., Aug. 20 (AP)—Authorities investigating an otherwise unexplained truck-automobile collision which crushed three people to death on a main highway here, yesterday said today one of the victims may have suffered a heart attack or a stroke just before the crash.

The victims were identified several hours after the accident as Emilio Viola, 56, of 95-01 103rd street, Ozone Park, Jamaica, N. Y.; Mrs. Lucy Viola of the same address, and Albert Leonard Viola, 25, of 115-38 132nd street, South Ozone Park.

Coroner James J. Corrigan said it was assumed the elder Viola, whose body was found behind the steering wheel, was driving the car registered in his son's name. Reporting that he had ordered a post mortem examination, Corrigan said "the evidence we have leads us to believe that he may have suffered a cerebral hemorrhage or coronary thrombosis previous to the crash."

Hamden police said the injured truck driver, Norbert Blaine, 32, of Willimantic, and two motorists who saw the accident all were unable to explain it.

New Designs Conceal Hearing Aids

Electronic aids that help restore lost hearing without advertising a woman's handicap are science's postwar gift to the partially deaf.

New hearing aids owe their unobtrusive designs to American inventive talent and to the use of improved postwar plastics.

New transmitter cases—a "case" houses the microphone, vacuum tubes, two small batteries and tiny electrical parts needed to pick up the sound waves and convert them into electrical impulses—are as slim as a cigarette case. Tucked into bra top or worn under the shoulder of a dress, a transmitter case cannot be detected.

Fine wires carry the electrical impulses from transmitter to the receiver, where impulses are translated into sound vibrations for the large the various groups now in existence.

The teen-age program director will be at the Y. W. C. A. building daily from nine to twelve, and one to five.

Y.W.C.A. Teen-Age Director Returns

Miss Audria Stinger, teen-age program director of the Y. W. C. A., has returned to Kingston after attending the Y. W. C. A. Summer School for professional workers at Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, Illinois. The school, sponsored by the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., convened during the month of July on the campus of Ferry Hall as well as on the Lake Forest Academy campus. More than 150 program and executive directors, representing community workers at Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, Illinois, and the territory of Hawaii and Great Britain, attended the school this year.

Emphasizing group work methods and psychology, history, philosophy, and ways of work of the Y. W. C. A., public affairs program of the "Y," in addition to all sorts of skills and techniques related to the job of the teen-age program director, the school program was most helpful and stimulating, said Miss Stinger. Members of the National Board staff were in charge of the various classes and discussions.

Beginning her second year in Kingston, Miss Stinger hopes to build a program to meet the needs of teen-age girls, through clubs, interest groups, canteens, and special activities and to en-

Windburn's Streak Snapped at 17 as Morgan's Rest Wins, 8-4

Bill Thomas Allows Only Five Hits to Gain Victory

The greatest pitching record in City League baseball history went down the drain Tuesday night when Bill Windburn was finally halted by Morgan's Restaurant after compiling 17 straight mound victories over a span of two seasons. Morgan's won last night's first game of the Shaughnessy playoffs by 8 to 4 over Jones Dairy before a great throng of spectators at the Athletic Field.

The upset victory gave the plucky Morgan squad one game up on the regular 1947 pennant winners in the post-season playoffs. The second game in the series will be played Thursday night at the Smith avenue park. Tonight's playoff tilt will bring together Hofbrau and Chez Emile. Hofbrau won Monday's game by 3 to 1 and need another win tonight to meet the winner of the Jones-Morgan series.

Thomas Hurts Victory

Instead of going with the usual lefthander, Bud Swarthout, Manager Buddy Zoller called upon the veteran righthander, Bill Thomas, to stop the Jones Dairy streak and Thomas complied by hurling a neat five-hitter. Morgan's triumph last night also snapped the team streak of Jones Dairy at 17 over the same two year span.

Jones Takes Lead

It looked as though Windburn would chalk up another victory when the Dairyemen gave him a 4-2 cushion by scoring three runs in the bottom half of the second, but Morgan's had a different idea. Tommy Maines singled to open the frame and Andy Cochran was safe on a sacrifice when "Sonny" Barnes was charged with an error. After Zander moved up both runners on an infield out, J. A. Berardi worked Thomas for a walk to load the sacks. Thomas settled down and whiffed Windburn but on a wild pitch, Maines scored tying the game. Jones moved ahead on Maxon's passed ball and when Van Derzee plunked out his second hit, Berardi crossed the plate to give the Dairyemen a 4-2 edge.

But as far as Thomas was concerned that was the end of Jones Dairy. He kept the pennant winner's streak from the second until the sixth while his mates went out and picked up two in the third and a four-run bulge in the fourth.

Al Vogt's big bat stroked another double in the third which scored Heneberry. Two infield outs brought Vogt in to knot the count, 4-4.

Windburn's downfall was started in the fourth by his opposing pitcher who worked him for a walk. Bill Tierney beat out a bunt as did Barnes to load the sacks. Neff forced Thomas at the plate. Manager George Zander committed a passed ball allowing Barnes to score. Vogt again came through in the clutch with a single driving in Tierney and when Zander threw badly into right field, Neff romped home. The rally ended after Brinkman lined a single scoring Heneberry.

The Birth of a Classic

The "Brooklyn-Against-The-World" baseball team was dreamed up because Brooklyn, like any large urban community, had a post-war youth problem. The Brooklyn Eagle, the Brooklyn Dodgers, and many other civic-minded Brooklyn organizations had long advocated measures to provide more facilities for wholesome recreation.

You will see the culmination of these dreams next Tuesday night, August 26, at municipal stadium when the second edition of the Brooklyn "stars" meet the Hudson Valley Juniors in the second annual Kingston Athletic Association junior baseball classic. The cream of the junior crop in Brooklyn and Long Island will be pitted against the best in Kingston, Highland, and Poughkeepsie.

The Time for Decision

Last year the time was considered ripe to do something about it in Brooklyn. Out of conferences between the Brooklyn Eagle and the Dodgers developed the "Brooklyn-Against-The-World" amateur baseball series at Ebbets Field. These two organizations agreed to pay the entire expenses involved in the series. Gross receipts from the three games are used to support the Brooklyn Amateur Baseball Foundation. There is no such organization in this city, but the K.A.A. is doing nobly in that direction.

This great classic has dealt realistically with the so-called "juvenile delinquency problem" in Brooklyn. It has also encouraged similar programs in other large cities and other ball-playing countries. The movement has been a great stimulant for clean sports and has promoted wider participation in amateur baseball by youth. The Brooklyn-Long Island squad annually plays against a team of selected players from other cities in the United States, Canada, Cuba and the Hawaiian Islands.

A Worthwhile Organization

The "Brooklyn-Against-The-World" amateur baseball series made possible an organization which is the pride of the community. The Brooklyn Amateur Baseball Foundation was established last year as the agency to administer funds derived from the three-game "Junior World Series."

The aim of the Foundation is to expand and encourage sandlot baseball. Already thousands of young sandlotters, representing over 460 teams, have been added by this organization. They have received equipment, have been provided with playing fields, and have been invited to attend numerous supervised baseball clinics for players and umpires alike.

The various sandlot organizations included in the Foundation's program are: Police Athletic League, Catholic Youth Organization, Parade Grounds League, Bay Ridge League, Brooklyn and Queens Y.M.C.A.s, Brooklyn Boys' Clubs, Brooklyn Kiwanis Boys' Baseball Federation, Kings County American Legion Junior League, Queens-Nassau League, Queens Kiwanis Boys' Baseball Federation, and Nassau County League.

Backed by a Willing Press

The executive secretary in charge of developing the Foundation's program is Edward P. McCarrick. Once a sandlotter, himself, he is a former scholastic and collegiate baseball star. His qualifications also include several years as a professional baseball player and Dodger scout.

Supporting the Brooklyn organization in this enterprise are 48 newspapers in the United States, Canada, Cuba and the Hawaiian Islands. Nine newspapers in the Havana area, 11 in the Montreal sector and the Honolulu Star Bulletin assist in the preliminary details and sponsor the trips for players chosen from their districts.

The City of Kingston is fortunate to have the opportunity to play host to such an outstanding group of young baseball stars. Last year despite frigid weather conditions, nearly 2400 persons saw the contest in which the Hudson Valley Juniors were beaten, 10 to 5. We'd like to see the crowd double this time.

It must be a source of justifiable pride to the many families in the mid-Hudson area whose youngsters will be out there under the resplendent mazzas battling the city slickers. It is a baseball thrill that can come only once in a lifetime for a kid.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: He hopes the baseball fans of Kingston don't sell the kid game short next Tuesday night. It is the baseball treat of the year.

Cards' Ability to Rebound Features Pennant Scramble

(By The Associated Press)

The ability of the St. Louis Cardinals to come off the floor has highlighted their play in the past and apparently the 1947 season will be no exception.

Sent reeling six-and-one-half games back of the Brooklyn Dodgers Monday by two crushing defeats at the hands of the league leaders, the Red Birds served notice yesterday that they are still not out by coming back and slaughtering the Brooks, 11-3 at Ebbets.

Today, Manager Eddie Dyer picked gameworn Murry Dickson to face the Dodgers in an attempt to square their four-game series and shorten the Dodgers' margin to four-and-one-half games. Ralph Branca, a 17-game winner, was nominated by Manager Burt Shotton to oppose Dickson.

While the Cards were socking extra base hits all over the lot, St. Louis' Al Brazle held the Dodgers at bay on eight hits until he wilted in the ninth, when the Dodgers scored their final two runs.

Braves Come Closer
With the lineight centered on the Cards-Dodgers, the Boston Braves continued to close quietly on the duo. They moved to within seven games off the pace by coming from behind to nip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5 in a night game at Ebbets. Lefty Elliott, former Pirate, turned defeat into victory with a three-run homer with two out in the ninth off Al Lyons, third Pirate pitcher.

The win enabled the Braves to increase their margin over the fourth place New York Giants to four games. The Giants bowed, 8-1 to the Cincinnati Reds in a night tussle at the Polo Grounds. It was the New Yorkers' eighth straight loss.

The Chicago Cubs dropped both ends of a twin bill to the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-1 and 8-2. Ken Heintzelman and Schoenboy Rowe stopped the Cubs in that order.

The American League's front-running New York Yankees opened their final tour of the west dropping a 2-1 decision to the Tigers in Detroit.

Home: Edges, Yanks
Hot Evers broke a 1-1 tie with a home run off Alie Reynold in the sixth inning. Sub Overmire stopped the Yanks on seven hits.

Police Game Is Postponed

The baseball game between the New York Police and the City League All Stars, sponsored by the Kingston Police Department, was postponed for the second time yesterday.

The date has been changed from August 30 to Saturday, September 6.

The local police were notified that the postponement would be necessary because the New York police department desires to have every member on duty during the week of the American Legion convention.

Gruner Is Pleased With Grid Players At Tuesday's Drill

Coach Al Gruner sent his Colonial City Huskies through another extensive workout at Hasbrouck Park Tuesday night and expressed satisfaction with the rehearsal.

"Response to this club has been great," Coach Gruner said, "and although we'll have to start slicing the squad down soon, we're pleased with the turnout of interested players who are anxious to be with us this season."

Fred Hofbauer, spokesman of the Huskies, said this morning that future practices will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening at 6:30 p. m. at Hasbrouck Park and on Sunday morning at 10 a. m.

Dodgers Beat Mahanoy City, 6-2; Here Tonight

Nazareth Aces Here Tonight

Two of the top sluggers in the North Atlantic League—Howard Gutshall and Eddie Komiserak—will be in action at municipal stadium when the Kingston Dodgers entertain the powerful Nazareth Tigers in a "Family Night" engagement at 8 o'clock.

Nazareth holds the batting leadership in the N.A.L. with a mark of .278, had given the Dodgers more trouble than any other team in the loop, winning six out of 14 with the locals.

Gutshall has batted over 500 against Kingston. His league average is .351 and his 151 hits—tops in the loop—include 10 doubles, 10 triples and 15 homers, and 92 runs batted in. Komiserak, batting .296, has 81 RBIs, 115 hits, including 13 doubles, 9 triples and 8 homers.

All members of a single family under 16 years of age will be admitted for a $1 ticket. A program of field events will precede the game.

Sawatski's .376 Is Top N.A.L. Batting Average

Carl "Butch" Sawatski, the Bloomingdale fireplug catcher who hits them everywhere except in Kingston, had a 10-point bulge on Jack Medina, of Mahanoy City, as of August 16, in the race for the individual batting crown of the North Atlantic League, according to the official figures of league statistician, Harry Simmons, of New York.

Sawatski, who has pored 32 homers, had a .376 average, with 136 hits in 362 trips, including 25 doubles, 3 triples and 122 runs batted in. Medina, in the first five throughout the season, trailed by 10 points, with 115 hits in 314 times at bat.

Howie Gutshall, the Nazareth bomber, who hits Kingston pitching like he owns it, is third with .351 and tops the circuit in hits, with 151. Buck Etchison, Mahanoy City playing-manager, is fourth with a .350 mark, including 20 homers. Buck leads in runs batted in with 127.

In Charmed Circle

In fifth place is Joe De Toia, Peekskill's belligerent left fielder, with a .347 mark. De Toia had 21 doubles, 9 triples and 11 home runs.

Kowalski Tops Local
The recent sensational batting spurge of Walt Kowalski, Dodger third sacker, has brought him to sixth spot with a .336 figure. Walt tops the league in triples with 19 and has 11 home runs to his credit.

Brian Kerr, who has been climbing steadily in the past six weeks, is second in the Dodger averages with .301. Kerr has 15 doubles and two triples but has failed to hit for the circuit. Knobby Rosa and Chris Kitoos are tied at .281. Rosa has 91 hits and Kitoos 56. Wiley Williams and Jerry Orlean have .265 and .264 respectively. Rudy Antonetz is hitting .260 and Bobby Newhard is last among the regulars with .242.

BRIAN KERR
A month of steady hitting has boosted the brilliant Dodger left fielder to the charmed circle of 300 hitters in the North Atlantic League. Kerr boasted a .301 average as of August 16. In 99 games, he had gone to bat 366 times, made 119 hits, scored 74 runs and had 16 doubles and two triples. Defensively Kerr is a major league outfielder right now. He possesses a great throwing arm and has an uncanny knack of snaring short line drives to left center field.

As I have often said, some of the best bridge is played after a tournament is over, when the contestants are sitting around and eating sandwiches. During a discussion of hands after a recent tournament, Sol Mogal of New York brought up today's hand, which he said he played eight or ten years ago.

He gave us only the North and South cards, and if you really want to work the hand out, you should cover up the East-West cards. There were four or five experts around the table when we discussed it, and none of them made the correct play.

Mogal said that he played the ten of diamonds from dummy on the opening lead, East put on the jack and Mogal won. He led the spade and finessed dummy's jack which held.

Then he cashed the ace of diamonds, led the three of hearts to the queen in his hand, and ruffed the six of hearts with the seven of hearts. West had played the diamonds in the following order: seven, five, deuce.

Dummy's ten of hearts was led to the king, and the ace of hearts cashed. Then declarer led his fourth heart. Having no idea that West was void of clubs, he simply hoped that West had one of the club honors.

But West had to lead a spade which was won by dummy with the queen. South discarding a club. Another club was discarded on the ace of spades.

This left the dummy with the king-ten-nine of clubs, while Mogal had the nine of diamonds and ace-six of clubs. Mogal found himself squeezed. In order to hold the queen of diamonds, he had to blank down to the queen-jack of clubs.

Fishermen Catch Deer
Santa Monica, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP)—These fishermen went ocean fishing and brought back a deer from a mile at sea. The fishermen, aboard a charter boat, sighted the six-month-old doe yesterday swimming in the ocean. After an hour's effort, they hoisted it aboard and found it had been wounded in the leg with a small bullet. Captain who took charge of the animal said it probably had fled from nearby Topanga Canyon.

Woman Is Evicted

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—An 82-year-old woman was in Harlem Hospital today after being evicted from her apartment in a building she owned 30 years ago. Her furniture and other belongings were carried to the sidewalk yesterday on her landlord's complaint of non-payment of rent. Taken to a police station by a neighbor, the woman, Miss Mary Gernanton, was removed to the hospital for treatment for a heart ailment. The present landlord, Luther Alexander, said she had owned the house but sold it a few years ago to a man from whom he bought it in June.

He said the young pilot, who has flown a plane 18 hours, is qualified to solo if the C.A.A. grants a waiver on her age.

Comedy Presented at Cragmoor Theatre

It's a gay time at The Cragmoor Theatre this week. When the curtain opened Tuesday night on "Chicken Every Sunday" it was evident that the cast, as well as the audience, was in for an evening of fun, because each member of the resident company has a comedy role. If you can imagine Helene Ambrose, the dramatic lady-senator of last week's "Does the Lady Yield," a broken-down vaudeville, chain drinker and yodeler, then you have some idea of what happens to the other characters in "Chicken Every Sunday."

The farce by Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein was taken from a true story by Rosemary Taylor, and Miss Taylor even used her own name for one of the characters in the play—that of Rosemary, the daughter in a mad but lovable family. It's a coincidence that Rosemary Prinz, young actress seen in "Dear Ruth" some weeks back, also bears the same name.

Miss Taylor tells the story of her family in Tucson, Arizona, where her father was president of a bank, a trolley line, a laundry and half a dozen other enterprises. However, he has the spirit of a pioneer, and is continually thinking up new schemes to make the family really rich. His wife, a former Southern belle and a practical woman, feels certain that some day his wild ideas will take them all to the poor house. Against that day, she turns their home into a boarding house, and Mr. Blanchman, her husband, is busier than ever, trying to part the boarders from their money to subsidize his schemes. "Chicken Every Sunday" will play through Sunday, August 24. Starting Tuesday, August 26, Cragmoor Theatre will present "Kiss and Tell."

water from the drilled well was to be used for this purpose. The pump handle was again removed. Health authorities ordered the owner to have a chlorinator installed on the drilled well and to have the dug well filled in.
There was an outbreak in a mild way of food poisoning in a Plattsburgh family. It was found a member of the family had gathered "mushrooms" which were cooked and eaten. An hour after four of the five persons eating the mushrooms were taken violently ill. Those who had not partaken of the mushrooms were not affected. Samples disclosed that the mushrooms were of a mildly poisonous type. All of the ill persons recovered.
The Health Department points out that wild growing "mushrooms" are dangerous even when picked by a "self-styled expert". During July several individuals were in Ulster county "observing" public health work as done here. As a part of their period of field work in New York state Dr. K. T. Jen from the National Chungking University Medical College, China; Dr. Tauson Fetkenon, Venereal Disease Control Office, for Finland; Dr. Willis E. Hammond, apprentice epidemiologist, State Health Department, Albany; and Drs. Julia Alarilla and Alicia de la Paz, Manila, Philippine Islands, who hold fellowships issued by the United States Public Health Service, were among those who visited the department here.
Dr. Thomas F. O'Brien joined the Tuberculosis Hospital staff as resident physician on July 21. He was born in Mineville, and has done internship at Champlain Valley Hospital at Plattsburgh and institutional work in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. During July the average hospital census was 54. Four new patients were admitted and eight discharged. There were four deaths. No field clinics were held in July but the two weekly clinics at the hospital were attended by 436 patients, 144 of them being workers at the agricultural camp maintained at Kerhonkson by the Department of Agriculture.

Miss Helen M. Bouck, a qualified public nurse, and Mrs. Elsie M. Wilson, dental hygienist, were added to the Public Health Nursing division in July.

Water supplies were inspected during July and Still Pond, a portion of the Rosendale supply, was found unfit for use because of growth of algae. It was drained and cleaned and chlorination used. Other water supplies were found to be good.

Milk supplies were inspected during July and some from outside the county were found improperly pasteurized and corrections advised. The summer resort population reached the local demand to between 70,000 and 75,000 quarts per day and made necessary augmenting the local supplies.

Twelve active and 2 inactive tuberculosis cases were reported. A total of 466 X-rays were taken. There were nine deaths from cancer in July in the county, and the total number of cancer cases reported was 34 for the month.
